

CONGRATULATIONS GREG NEMUNAITIS, MD

SCI MODEL SYSTEMS CENTER GRANT

Greg Nemunaitis, MD, Professor of PM&R and Director of the Spinal Cord Rehabilitation Program, MetroHealth Medical Center was awarded the SCI Model Systems Center grant from the National Institute for Disability and Independent Living, Rehabilitation and Research (NIDILRR).

NIDILRR awards SCI Model Systems Center grants to institutions that are national leaders in medical research and patient care and provide the highest level of comprehensive specialty services, from the point of injury through rehabilitation and re-entry into full community life.

The five (5) year $2.26 million grant is to "generate new knowledge that can be used to improve outcomes of individuals with traumatic spinal cord injury."

About the FES Center

The Cleveland FES Center is a consortium of the Louis Stokes Cleveland VA Medical Center, MetroHealth Medical Center, Case Western Reserve University, and University Hospitals. With their support, researchers, engineers and clinicians collaborate together to develop innovative solutions that improve the quality of life of individuals with neurological or other muscular skeletal impairments. Through the use of neurostimulation and neuromodulation research and applications, the Cleveland FES Center leads the translation of this technology into clinical deployment.
